EDITOR'S LETTER

Even though the REVISTA does not make advertisement of any sort, it would be a disservice to the members and readers in general if we did not mention the publication of a great work in genealogical research done by Juan Bruno Zayas de la Portilla, Origenes, a historic and genealogical study of the surname Zayas.

The study took 15 years of serious research throughout Latin America and Spain. In two volumes and a total of 1264 pages, the book covers one thousand years of history of the Zayas lineage. It also contains information about many of the most important families of Cuba which intermarried in the Zayas family.

We would like to extend our congratulations and gratitude to Juan Bruno for this magnificent work in the Cuban genealogical field.

Sanchez de Carmona

By Augusto J. Gregori

Note: The first part of this family history was published in September, 2002, Vol. 11, no. 3.

At the end of the XVII century, arriving from the city of Cordoba, in Andalucia, this family established itself in Santiago de Cuba.

Don Blas Sanchez, and his wife doña Jeronima de Carmona were the parents of:

Captain Alonso Sanchez de Carmona, native of the city of Cordoba, married in the Cathedral of Santiago de Cuba, June 29, 1690, doña Maria Ramos y Vazquez Valdes de Coronado y Cisneros, daughter of the Captain Francisco Ramos, and of doña Graciana Vazquez Valdes de Coronado y Cisneros. (One sister of Maria; Dorotea Ramos Vazquez Valdes de Coronado married don Esteban Lorenzo Palacios-Saldurtun y Betancourt). They were the parents of: Barbara, and of Francisco Xavier Sanchez de Carmona y Ramos. Of these:

1.- Doña Barbara Sanchez de Carmona y Ramos, married in the Cathedral of Santiago de Cuba, April 24, 1715, don Jose Ramos y Ferrer, Chief Ensign and Mayor, son of the Sargent Mayor don Juan Ramos, and of doña Maria Teresa Ferrer y Roxas. (One brother of Maria Teresa Ferrer y Roxas; don Vicente Ferrer y Roxas, married in the Cathedral of Santiago de Cuba, December 30, 1714 doña Isabel Maria Cisneros y Machado).

2.- Don Francisco Xavier Sanchez de Carmona y Ramos, baptized in the Cathedral of Santiago de Cuba, March 16, 1702 was Chief Constable of the Holy Office of the Inquisition. Was also Mayor de Santiago de Cuba in 1732 and in 1766 married in the Cathedral of Santiago de Cuba, April 12, 1723 doña Rafaela Caballero y de la Cova, daughter of the Captain Antonio Caballero, Alferez Mayor, and of doña Maria Ana de la Cova y Luna. They were the parents of Pedro; Domingo, and of Francisco Xavier Sanchez de Carmona y Caballero. Of these:
